

This guide shows you how to find the Department of radiology i C-bygg between 10 p.m. and 7:30 a.m.

1. If you are arriving by car, the car park is clearly signposted, and it is a short walk from there to Inngang A (Entrance A). The car park for patients and visitors is the large brown building.

If you have reduced mobility, there is a drop-off and pick-up area located close to Inngang A.

2. When arriving by bus, the bus stops are located between the D-bygg (Building D) and the C-bygg (Building C). The bus stop is called SUS Ullandhaug, and Inngang A is easy to see and easily accessible from both bus stops.

3. When you enter the hospital, you will come into bright and open surroundings. The walls and floors are lightly-coloured, which may be noticeable if you are sensitive to light.

The ceiling lighting consists of fluorescent lights, which may produce a gentle humming sound and slight flickering. The ventilation system also creates a steady background noise. This is a normal part of the hospital environment, but it may be noticeable if you are sensitive to sound.

In some areas, there are slatted walls (walls made up of narrow, vertical wooden or metal slats). These may feel visually busy or distracting if you are sensitive to repeating patterns.

4. Go to main entrance in the A-bygg.

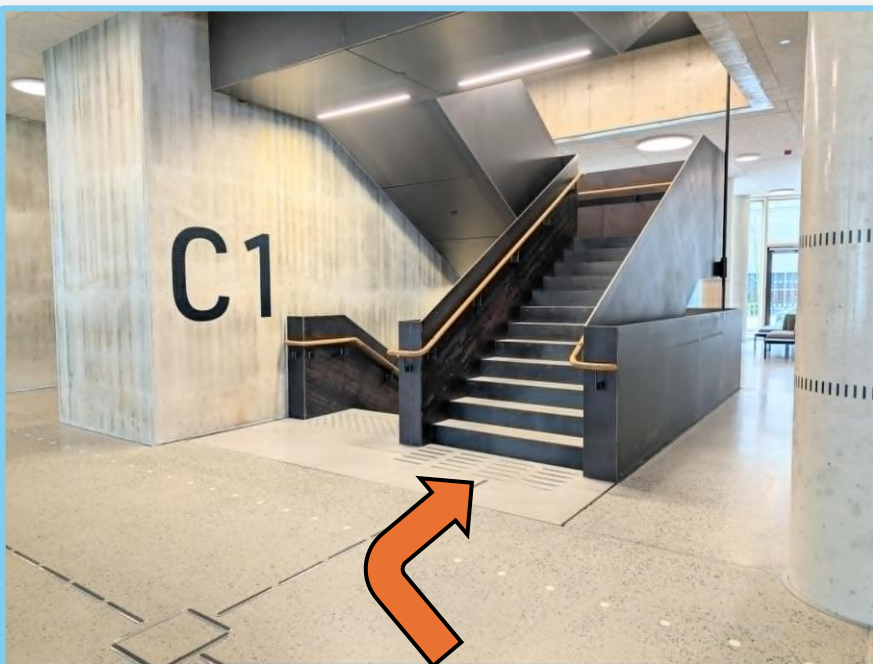

5. Located on your left side by the door, you will find an entryphone. Press the button illustrated with a small bell to contact Security.

6. The arrow in the picture shows which button to press.

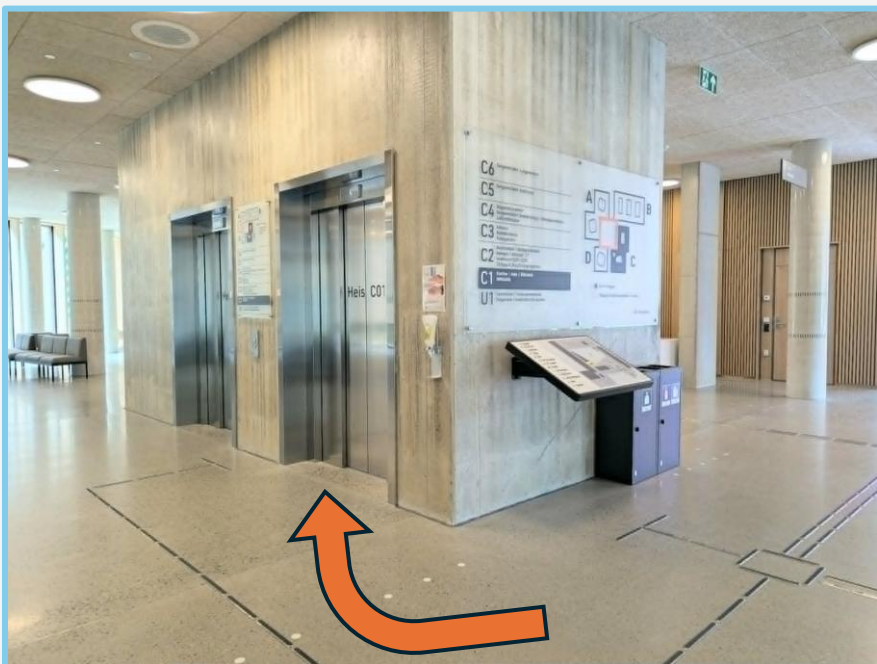

7. Security will assist you further to the C-bygg. The C-bygg is located straight across the entrance to the B-bygg.

8 There are three flights of stairs leading up to the first floor of the C-bygg.

The arrow in the picture shows the direction you came from, to help with orientation.

9. Near the stairs, there is also a lift. You will see two lifts on the right-hand side. You can choose whichever option feels most comfortable for you.

The arrow in the picture shows the direction you came from, to help with orientation.

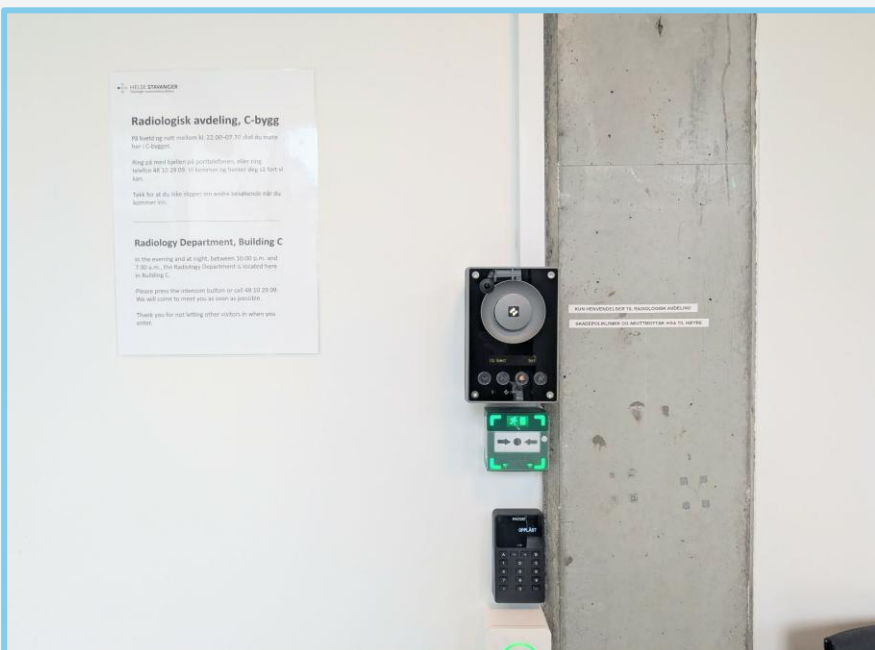

10. When you arrive on the 2nd floor by lift or stairs, follow the corridor straight ahead.

The arrows in the picture show the direction from the stairs and from the lifts on both the left- and right-hand sides.

11. The waiting area for the Department of Radiology in C-bygg will be by the first door on your right.

12. By the door you will find an entryphone. . Press the button illustrated with a small bell to contact the radiographers. They will come and collect you as soon as they are available.